Conservative Candidate Has Good Meeting

LARGE ATTENDANCE GREETED G. M. BLACKSTOCK AND A. A. MCGILLIVRAY—WAS BEST POLITICAL MEETING OF THE CAMPAIGN.

The largest and most enthusiastic political meeting held in Redcliff during the present campaign was the one held last Tuesday evening by G. M. Blackstock, Conservative candidate in this constituency.

Mr. Blackstock was accompanied by Mr. A. A. McGillivray, and the opinion of all was that both speakers gave the best view of the political issues ever heard in this town.

Mr. Blackstock gave the complete story of the compromise, adjustment, intrigue and sacrifice in principle that marked the dealings between the late King government and the Progressive group after the election of last October. He also went fully into the Ontario scandal and charged the King government with the violation of conditions in that department long before they took any action, and of shielding party officials who had been found guilty of wrong doing. He then asked, "Are you, by your vote next Tuesday, going to condemn or condone these actions?"

Mr. Blackstock made it clear that he stood as a Neighbour candidate because he believed that the policy of the Conservative leader was the one which would bring true development to this country. He spoke of the inconsistency of the Liberal party in tariff matters and described the Progressives as a group that had flirted with free trade yet neither the Liberals nor the Progressives while in parliament had ever introduced a resolution to keep with their respective platforms formulated when in opposition. He then gave figures to prove that tariff reductions were greater under Conservative rule than under Liberal rule. The difference between the two parties on the question of tariff is that the Conservatives do what they say they'll do while the Liberals say one thing in opposition and do entirely different when in office.

During the past year, he said, it had been clearly proven that the Conservatives thought more of principle than power while the Liberals sacrificed the interests of Canada for the support of the Progressive group. The tariff policy of the Conservative party is a tariff which will protect our workers from the unfair competition of small wages and low standards of living and permit of the development of our own resources by our own people, and also a tariff which will give our farmers the protection enjoyed by their competitors in the markets of the world.

Mr. Blackstock closed with a plea for honest, stable government and stated that in his opinion the best way to get that in this election was by voting for the Conservative candidate. He thanked the audience for the support given him in Redcliff last election and expressed the hope it would be even larger this time.

Mr. McGillivray's speech was one of the finest, fastest and most convincing ever heard here. He referred to the constitutional question as a fight which had been greatly magnified by Mr. King who in one breath referred to Baron Byng as an honest able capable official and at the next accused him being unfair.

Road to Medicine Hat Now Being Repaired

Matter Brought to Attention Chamber of Commerce by Mr. W. Waldo.

"Since no movement was made by any organization in town to have the road between here and Medicine Hat improved, Wilfrid Campano took the matter up with Mr. Waldo, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Medicine Hat. Mr. Waldo at once got busy with Mr. McMillan, provincial road engineer, and within a few hours plans were on the road filling in the low spots and otherwise repairing and improving the grade. The work already done has made a big improvement and we are informed that arrangements are being made to continue the work and put the road in first class condition.

We have no doubt that the government could be induced to grant this road if proper pressure were brought to bear upon the officials concerned.

Axelson Favors National Independence

U. F. A. Candidate Gives Views to Small Crowd.

Carl Axelson, U. F. A. candidate, addressed a public meeting in Cliff Hill last Tuesday evening. There was only a very small attendance but those who were present were entertained to listen to the speaker's views on the economic revolution since the earliest stages of history, laying special emphasis on what he termed the fundamental elements, namely the struggle for food, clothing and shelter. He endeavored to show that his struggle is still going on the medium by which it is carried on, viz money, has been secured by the few to the detriment of a large percentage of the population. He said, he said, the source of all wealth, and yet the workers are kept poor.

Mr. Axelson drew attention to the Liberal party's claim that during the last four or five years Canada had a favorable balance of trade amounting to $400,000,000, the largest in the history of the country, but he could not see where any but the rich had benefited by it.

He accused both the old parties of fleecing the people. He said he is in accord with the verdict of the people on this verdict. By voting for Blackstock you put your O.K. on Parliament's verdict which censured Mackenzie King and his Cabinet Ministers. By voting for a Liberal candidate, no matter who he may be, you are simply saying that you approve the continuance of smuggling and bootlegging on the part of Government officials with the knowledge of Cabinet Ministers.

Which do you want in power? The party responsible for these scandals, or the party which exposed them.

There is only one thing to do in this constituency. Vote for Blackstock and remember to mark it with an X.

Mr. Axelson referred to Mackenzie King as a scoundrel who performs whenever United States capitalists strike the strings. Mr. Meighen, he said, was granted dissolution because he was in sympathy with British institutions and would encourage the invading of British capital, rather than U.S. capital, in Canada. He then referred to the probability of another great war and advocated it as a certain means that Canada should declare herself nationally independent so as to avoid the possibility of being drawn into this conflict.

Speaking of the customs scandals under Liberal rule he said that if a poor man stole a loaf of bread, he drew a term in jail, but Jacques Bureau's reward for his aggressiveness was a seat in the Senate.

Speaking of the tax reductions of the Borden budget, he asked how many of his hearers had benefited by the reduction of the income tax. He claimed it didn't effect the average person at all. Penny postage he said was being taken off the farm, "but, said Mr. Axelson, "We're going to take a half of a long time to do it at one cent for every letter we write."

Referring to Dr. Granahan's statement that he wished to go to Ottawa as in dependent, the speaker said that being an independent reduces a man's influence to the smallest possible unit. The larger the group the greater the influence, he said.

In closing Mr. Axelson said he was not advanced enough to say he was out for all the people. He claimed he was representing the producers who form the larger percentage of the population.

Listeners See Alberta A party of British members visited the province during the past week, paying short visits to Edmonton, Calgary and the Prince of Wales.

Customs Committee Finds King Government Is Guilty

Parliament Also Brings in a Verdict of Guilty—Now up to the People

The King Government was convicted by Parliament and driven from office by the vote of Conservatives and Progressives following the disclosures in the Customs Department by the Stevens Committee. Following are the condemnations and recommendations as passed by Parliament:

"The evidence submitted to the committee leads to the general conclusion that for a long time the Department of Customs and Excise has been slowly degenerating in efficiency and that progress was greatly accelerated in the last few years. Apparently the Hon. Joseph Flavel, then Minister of Customs and Excise, was not properly discharged the responsibilities of his office and as a result there was a lack of efficient, continuous and vigorous control of subordinates by the Hon. Joseph Flavel at Ottawa."

"The evidence further discloses that Ministerial action has been influenced by the improper pressure of political associates and friends of the Minister, or acting Minister, administering the department, resulting in the suspension, and in some instances, the abandonment of prosecutions against those charged with violation of the statutes, and in the loss of revenue to the country. Moreover, successful appeals have been made to the Minister and Acting Minister administering the department to improperly interfere with the course of justice between the conviction of the offenders and the execution of judgment thereon. The Prime Minister and the Government had knowledge for some considerable time of the rapid degeneration of the Department of Customs and Excise, and their failure to take prompt action is wholly indefensible."

"Your committee deplains the practice, as revealed by the evidence, of certain well-influential in public life to direct appeals to the Minister to relax and depart from the proper administration of his department for reasons of expediency."

"Your committee is of the opinion that this practice is detrimental to the best interest of the country and prejudicial to the administration of the department."

The committee recommended that legal proceedings should be taken against 27 firms to recover sum of money defrauded from the Government. The committee recommended that the conduct of the officers at the Port of Windsor, Ontario, and other places, should be further investigated and that the services of such of them as are found guilty of evasion of duty should be dispensed with.

The committee recommended that evidence be transmitted to the Attorney General of Quebec for the purpose of taking action for perjury against J. A. Bissell.

The report of the committee also dealt fully with the procedure in smuggling cases, which it found faulty, and made a number of suggested improvements to the administration of the Department of Customs and Excise.

The Parliamentary Committee appointed to investigate the Customs charges has submitted its report as above. By a majority of ten with Dr. Granahan's vote parliament has found the King Government guilty of maladministration.

THE VERDICT OF THE PEOPLE

The case is now before the citizens of Canada, and on election day, Sept. 14th, they must pass judgment. It rests with them to say whether they are in accord with the verdict of Parliament or whether they desire to reverse this verdict. By voting for Blackstock you put your O.K. on Parliament's verdict which censured Mackenzie King and his Cabinet Ministers. By voting for a Liberal candidate, no matter who he may be, you are simply saying that you approve the continuance of smuggling and bootlegging on the part of Government officials with the knowledge of Cabinet Ministers.

Which do you want in power? The party responsible for these scandals, or the party which exposed them.

There is only one thing to do in this constituency. Vote for Blackstock and remember to mark it with an X.

Canada's Choice

On September 14th, the people must choose between the Liberal party with its record of incompetence, immorality and dishonesty, and the Conservative party led by the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, which will—

- (a) Continue to probe Customs irregularities, independently, relentlessly and thoroughly;
- (b) Enforce probity in the public administration, this including the maintenance and extension of the principle of merit in the Civil Service;
- (c) Restore the protective principle in the fiscal policy of Canada—a principle and practice upon which all can rely, upon which industry and workers can depend, but a principle and practice which none will be permitted to abuse;
- (d) Inaugurate a practical, vigorous and fruitful immigration policy, and endeavor by providing employment for Canadians in Canada, to keep our people at home;
- (e) Extend to producers of the Maritimes and of Western Canada the markets of Central Canada, including the extension of the use of Canadian coal by Canadian consumers; and the employment of Canadian shippers of our own Maritime ports; and
- (f) Establish a co-operative marketing policy that will enable the farmers of Canada to build a better life, and which will compare in efficiency with that of any agricultural country in the world."

Pola Negri Here in "A Woman of the World"

Will be at the Canada Theatre Man. September 13th

The dynamic presence of Pola Negri is once again in our local midst. This time in a picture of the same name "A Woman of the World." From a strictly story standpoint, this new venture is easily the best Pola has had to date, for aside from the modernness of its plot and American locale, it presents her in an appealing, sympathetic role, the offering of her own emotional brand of acting, and at the same time permits her to show a little light comedy now and then. Although Pola's is the outstanding performance, the supporting players acquit themselves with considerable distinction. Character roles are played by Holmes Heston, Chester Conklin and Blanche Mahaffey are all admirable and are uniformly good in their respective roles.

Will Start Next Week Oil Well Next Week

Electric Power Will Be Connected Up Next Sunday

Work at the oil well was held up during the past week as the transformers arrived from the West in bad condition and had to be repaired. It has now been put in good shape and everything is all ready for connecting up, but the connection cannot be made until Sunday when the glass plant will be closed down. This delay is necessary as the glass plant is in the same electric line and owing to the rush at that plant and the big loss caused by closing down when the whole plant is in operation, it was thought advisable to wait till Sunday when the current to the plant is shut off.

The review is informed that the transformers will be connected up on Sunday and that when this is done everything will be in shape for drilling operations, which will commence Monday.

The full staff for running the drilling outfit is on hand ready to start work as soon as the connection is made, and Mr. Reid, who is in charge of the operations, assures us that drilling will be continued night and day until the well is completed.

Liberal Candidate Addresses Meeting Here

Dr. Granahan Made a Good Program

"The constitutional question is more of a theoretical than a practical reality." This is the opinion of Dr. Granahan, Liberal candidate in this constituency, as he expressed it at his meeting in the Casino theatre here last Saturday evening.

The meeting was not very largely attended as Saturday night is a bad time here for such an event. Dr. Granahan was the only speaker but the evening was well filled with his selections by talent which accompanied the doctor from Medicine Hat.

The candidate reviewed the legislation passed at the last session of parliament. Referring to the Bobsuggs bill he said it was the best brought down since Confederation, and pointed out that this was made possible partly by the economy of the government and partly by the economy of the people. He brought about an era of prosperity in Canada. The prosperity of the country is the result of the reduction of the income tax; reduction in duty on sponge, sage, dates, autos, etc.; the grant of rural credit; old age pension; and many other things. He said, "We were among the legislators introduced by the King government during the last session. The fact is, this legislation was not now effective the speaker blamed on the manner in which parliament was dissolved."

Dr. Granahan said the King government had created a tariff commission whose duty it was to advise adjustment of tariff, up or down. The speaker claimed that the tariff and the different laws in Canada and the U.S. was the cause of the income tax. He said that nothing had been proven against Mr. Bureau while he was at the head of the customs department.

Referring to what he had done for his constituency since becoming its member he said he had the daily train service continued between Lethbridge and Medicine Hat.

At the conclusion of his address a member of the audience asked Dr. Granahan how the government-general's plan to grant dissolution to the King could possibly cause Canada to revert to a crown colony as stated by the speaker. The doctor attempted to answer this by referring to the dissolution granted Ramsey MacDonald when labor premier of the Dominion. He said that MacDonald had faced the role of a crown colony when he was in power. Dr. Granahan admitted the difference in circumstance and had no more to say on the subject.

Highways Convealing

The convention of the Alberta-Montana Highway Association was held in Lethbridge during the past week and was highly successful, delegates from both parts of Alberta and Montana being present. The delegates from across the border were much interested in the progress being made in Alberta in highway construction, which is much farther advanced than in Montana. The next convention will be held in Edmonton.

Labour Paper Is Strong for the Conservatives

DEMANDS PROTECTION FOR LABOR MEN AND INDUSTRIES—CHEAP EUROPEAN GOODS, MASS PRODUCTION AND THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT.

"The Canadian Labor Press Review" a Labor paper published in Ottawa, came to our desk this week. The front page of the Labor Review of Sept. 1st, is devoted entirely to labor's position in the approaching general election. Here is what the Labor paper says in bold type taking up its whole front page:

LABOR DEMANDS PROTECTION. Industry Demands Protection. Protection from Smuggling. Smuggling under the Liberal Government was responsible for the loss of millions of dollars in revenue and wages to Canada and Canadian workers. Factories were shut, the machinery and Corporation flourished throughout our country.

Protection from Cheap European Goods. Made at low standards and by workmen with a lower wage and less skill than those in Canada. Protection from the Mass Production of the United States. Canadian workers object to Canada being made the dumping ground for the overproduction of the U. S. A. at the expense of their jobs and wages.

Protection from a Liberal Government. Under Mackenzie King, tariff tinkering and laxness in the Customs Department has been robbing Canadians of workers of millions of dollars.

A Conservative Government, which is a workers' Government is now in power! Keep it There!

Passion Play Coming To the Cameo Theatre

In 1633, the Village of Oberammergau, in Bavaria, was visited by a terrible plague. On its cessation the entire population made a vow to perform the passion play of our Saviour every tenth year, out of gratitude, and as a means of religious instruction.

For the past century this vow has been faithfully observed. The inhabitants of this secluded village have a rare understanding of the drama and its perfect simplicity. Their familiarity with religious subjects is even beyond that is usual in the Alpine parts of Germany, and the spectacle is looked upon with the same feeling with which is originated—devout and religious. The importance of Christ considers his part as not of worship. He and all the rest who are to participate in the drama have been selected for their holy life, and are concentrated to their work with prayer and fasting. In the end these men, who of every child in the village to not a day in this great event, and in order to do so they must show in their daily life that they are worthy of such an honor.

This wonderful picture will be at the Cameo theatre on Friday, September 17th.

The Mosquito Has Its Uses

Mark Twain Had Jobs at Expense of Melancholy Man

"Mark Twain hated a gloomy man," said a New York editor. "Once a gloomy man, every gloomy man will posture him. This man wouldn't sit at the most amusing jokes recently."

"What's the matter with you?" asked Mark Twain. "The stanzas are all good. Why don't you laugh?"

"Ah, sir," said the gloomy man, "how can I laugh when I remember that every time I breathe a word of praise into a great heart, it passes into the great beyond?"

"Oh, gentlemen," said the humorist, "did you ever try clovers?"

CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE HAS GOOD MEETING

Mr. McGillivray said there were three questions each elector should ask himself or herself before voting. Was there any corruption? Did the government know about it? And if they did know did they take the necessary steps to stop it? He then proceeded to review by the above evidence given during the investigation that there had been graft and corruption of the worst kind going on in the Customs department. By reading correspondence to members of the government, including Mr. King, himself, he proved that a tariff printer in Quebec, the Social and Moral Reform League in Nova Scotia and the Commercial Protective association had advised different departments of the government of the maladministration on the part of government officials, as far back as May, 1924, yet it was not until December, 1925, that Mr. Duncan was put to an investigation. Even while this investigation was going on, conscientious officials were dismissed from the service and others against whom charges were made were given promotions. It was not until Nov. 8, H. R. Stevens demanded immediate action and nothing was done to curb the smuggling and bootlegging which had been going on for some time. With the proof that there was corruption, that the government knew about it and that they had failed to act, there was only one way for Canadians who still maintain national honesty and decency in running the affairs of the country, to vote. That is to put the party guilty of this abuse of office out of power.

Speaking of tariff Mr. McGillivray pointed out that in Hamilton Mr. King believed in safeguarding the industries while Mr. Meighen calls it protection.

In the west Mr. King preaches tariff reductions while Mr. Meighen still preaches protection.

Mr. King's old age pension bill is on a par with his reforming the senate. Both were just a move to catch votes. Mr. Meighen's policy for old age pensions is in keeping with the resolution passed by both the Alberta and Saskatchewan legislatures which none of the provinces are in sympathy with Mr. King's bill.

Mr. McGillivray said that Mr. Meighen's proposed solution for placing Alberta coal on the eastern market should appeal to every elector in Alberta as this province has fourteen per cent. of the known coal deposits of the world and the development of our mines would furnish employment to thousands of miners and a wider market would supply our railroads with that much additional freight. He also drew attention to the fact that all the Liberals, including Dr. Gershwin, voted against the resolution of Mr. Davis to give Alberta her resources without any strings attached to the bill. Mr. McGillivray closed with an appeal for the support of Mr. Blackstock, the Conservative candidate in this constituency.

son (from 1 St. John 3: 1-4), and the Vicar took the first verse as his text paraphrasing it thus: "How good God our Father has been to us to make us His children!" He showed how the church from nave to chancel and from chancel to sanctuary represented an upward progress in God's favour. Standing by the font he led the children to describe themselves as baptized, and pointed out that it was the first step in the Christian course. Then from the chancel step he dwelt on the meaning and purpose of Confirmation, which the older children were able to illustrate by their answers. Finally he showed them the altar, the sacred vessels, describing their use and explaining simply the Holy Service in which they were employed, and the Great Sacrifice commemorated. "What," he concluded, "shall we give to God for all His goodness to us?" And the appropriate answer came in the hymn, "Glorious, Thy dying love Thou gavest us." The children were very attentive and the whole service much appreciated.
